2. Pre-Requisites

It is convenient to have passed the subject History of Philosophy, which is taught in the 1st Course

3. Justification in the curriculum, relation to other subjects and to the profession

In accordance with the Humanities and Social Studies Curriculum, History of Ethical and Political Thought, a basic semester subject, taught in the 3rd year.

The subject has as its object of study the tradition of democratic thought in the West, from its origins in ancient Greece to the present day, seeking in this development the fundamental milestones and the thinkers who developed it. For this reason, the student must become familiar with the ideas that these thinkers, past and contemporary, have coined, and thus acquire the necessary tools to successfully and critically address the issues and problems that today have the greatest relevance when they become in the way of being of our advanced societies; specifically in relation to democratic values, collective identities, the inclusion of the Other, pluralism and multiculturalism.

The area of ¿¿knowledge of Philosophy is represented in the Degree Study Plan through the following subjects:

- History of Philosophy (basic training, 1st Course).
- History of Ethical and Political Thought (compulsory, 3rd Course).
- Current Currents of Thought (optional, 4th Cycle).
- Logic of the Argumentation (optional, 4th Cycle).

History of Ethical and Political Thought starts from the knowledge that has been acquired in History of Philosophy, as established in section 2 (Prerequisites). For this reason, the student must have internalized the various historical categories and know how to perfectly distinguish each of the historical epochs, and which are the most representative modes of general philosophical thought of each one of them. This facilitates that the new approach adopted in the subject is not diachronic but synchronous, that is, rather identifying problems and their solutions, without making an exhaustive reference to the specific time in which they occurred. History of Ethical and Political Thought opens the wide thematic spectrum that will be addressed in the other subjects of the Philosophy Area: Current Currents of Thought and, specifically, Logic of Argumentation, given that the modes of public argumentation discussed in the latter cited subject will serve to understand more fully the institutional and ideological frameworks of democracy, which will be the subject of our treatment. History of Ethical and Political Thought also offers a panoramic vision that will be most useful to Foundations of Social Anthropology and Gender Anthropology, where gender issues and collective identities are discussed. Finally, our subject helps to understand other subjects belonging to other different areas, such as Contemporary History of Spain and Contemporary History of Castilla-La Mancha, given that it is in close connection with the political history of our current world, of our country and, specifically, from our Autonomous Community.

From the professional point of view, the subject offers competencies that are necessary for the future insertion of the student in labor fields, such as teaching in Human and Social Sciences in public or private centers of Compulsory Secondary Education and Baccalaureate, or at the University . Likewise, it is essential in the promotion of various socio-cultural activities and in the performance of public functions, where Philosophy as a whole, and above all Ethics or Politics in particular, play a key role.
