2. Pre-Requisites

It is recommended that students start at least from an A2 level, since at the end of the 2nd year subject they will have to demonstrate a B1 level in all communicative skills.

3. Justification in the curriculum, relation to other subjects and to the profession

The European Higher Education Area requires graduates to master a second European language, preferably English. The Degree in Primary Education Teaching meets this requirement in the subjects Foreign Language and its didactics I and II. This training is fundamental for teachers considering the current scenario of Primary Education and its great commitment to training in foreign languages and multilingualism-based approaches.

4. Degree compete	nces achieved in this course
Course competence	IS
Code	Description
1.2.3.11.09	Express oneself orally and in writing in a foreign language.
1.2.3.II.10	Design and evaluate curricular contents through suitable teaching resources and promote the corresponding competences among students.
CB04	Transmit information, ideas, problems and solutions for both specialist and non-specialist audiences.
CT01	Master a second language, preferably English, at B1 level under the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.
CT03	Correct oral and written communication.

5. Objectives or Learning Outcomes

Course learning outcomes

Description

Know how to communicate and interact orally with a certain confidence, participating in unrehearsed conversations that deal with everyday topics, expressing personal opinions and exchanging information on the familiar topics of personal interest or relevant in daily life.

Know how to read written texts about specific facts that deal with topics related to his/her speciality with satisfactory level of understanding.

Be able to understand the main idea in oral communication of standard language, dealing with everyday subjects related to work, school, leisure, etc.

Be able to write simple and cohesive texts about a range of everyday topics within his/her field of interest by linking together several different short elements in a linear sequence.

Be able to make a simple oral description of a variety of topics of interest.

6. Units / Contents

Unit 1: English language section (Functional contents, lexis, grammar, pronunciation). UNIT 1 Unit 2: English language section (Functional contents, lexis, grammar, pronunciation). UNIT 2 Unit 3: English language section (Functional contents, lexis, grammar, pronunciation). UNIT 3 Unit 4: English language section (Functional contents, lexis, grammar, pronunciation). UNIT 4 Unit 5: English language section (Functional contents, lexis, grammar, pronunciation). UNIT 4 Unit 5: English language section (Functional contents, lexis, grammar, pronunciation). UNIT 5 Unit 6: Didactics section (Introduction to teaching English as a foreign language in Primary Education) ADDITIONAL COMMENTS, REMARKS

The functional contents, lexicon, grammar and pronunciation correspond to a B1 level in the Common European Framework of Reference.

The subject is divided into two distinct parts:

1. English language practice

2. English language teaching (didactics).

As established in the Curriculum, students must pass the 'English Language and English Language Teaching I' course or the 'French Language and French Language Teaching I' course.

The blocks of contents will be parallelly developed:

According to art. 4 of the UCLM Student Evaluation Regulations, it must be provided to students who cannot regularly attend face-to-face training activities the passing of the subject, having the right (art. 12.2) to be globally graded, in 2 annual calls per subject, an ordinary and an extraordinary one (evaluating 100% of the competences).

Evaluation criteria for the final exam:

Continuous assessment:

i. To pass the subject it will be necessary to obtain a minimum total mark of 5 out of 10 in the final mark; a minimum of 4 out of 10 is established in each of the final evaluation tests (listening, reading, use of English, writing and speaking), as well as for the didactics section and the rest of the evaluable progress activities in order to be considered for the overall evaluation. If the final mark is lower than 5, all sections which did not reach 5 out of 10 will require to be recovered.

ii. The didactics section will be evaluated either through didactic exploitation activities within the classroom schedule, or through a section within the final exam.

iii. Regarding the oral test, students who attend class will have the possibility of being evaluated continuously in the classroom. In the case of not passing the continuous evaluations, they will be required to perform the oral exam in the corresponding call for the final test. The teacher will detail, at the beginning of the year, the characteristics and requirements of this continuous evaluation.

iv. Retrievable progress tests: The teacher will determine and inform students during the first three weeks of the academic year about the characteristics of the different progress tests that will be carried out. These tests will be related to the different skills in English and will represent 30% of the final grade. The marks of these progress tests are considered recoverable: any failing mark corresponding to a progress test can be retrieved by passing the corresponding final test of the same characteristics (e.g.listening, writing;), whose mark will be valid for both the final test and failed progress tests.

v. The marks passed with a minimum grade of 5 corresponding to each of the final tests (listening, writing, reading, use of English, speaking, and didactics) will be saved for the extraordinary or special call. In extraordinary and final calls: the same criteria will be followed as in ordinary calls.

vi. If a student fails any of the final tests, the grade of the call will be the lower one obtained in said tests.

vii. Students will have the possibility to opt for one of the two available routes (continuous or non-continuous evaluation). It may also change from continuous to non-continuous modality if he/she has NOT participated in evaluable activities that together represent at least 50% of the total evaluation of the subject.

viii. Plagiarism in any of the evaluable activities will be penalized.

ix. It will be responsibility of the student to check on the Virtual Campus the dates, hour and characteristics of the different evaluation tests, which will be uploaded by the professor along the first three weeks of the semester.

Non-continuous evaluation:

i. To pass the subject it will be necessary to obtain a minimum total mark of 5 out of 10 in the final mark; a minimum of 4 out of 10 is established in each of the final evaluation tests (listening, reading, use of English, writing and speaking), as well as for the didactics section and the rest of the evaluable progress activities in order to be considered for the overall evaluation. If the final mark is lower than 5, all sections which did not reach 5 out of 10 will require to be recovered.

ii. The didactics section will be evaluated either through didactic exploitation activities within the classroom schedule, or through a section within the final exam.

iii. Regarding the oral test, students who attend class will have the possibility of being evaluated continuously in the classroom. In the case of not passing the continuous evaluations, they will be required to perform the oral exam in the corresponding call for the final test. The teacher will detail, at the beginning of the year, the characteristics and requirements of this continuous evaluation.

iv. Retrievable progress tests: The teacher will determine and inform students during the first three weeks of the academic year about the characteristics of the different progress tests that will be carried out. These tests will be related to the different skills in English and will represent 30% of the final grade. The marks of these progress tests are considered recoverable: any failing mark corresponding to a progress test can be retrieved by passing the corresponding final test of the same characteristics (e.g.listening, writing;), whose mark will be valid for both the final test and failed progress tests.

v. The marks passed with a minimum grade of 5 corresponding to each of the final tests (listening, writing, reading, use of English, speaking, and didactics) will be saved for the extraordinary or special call. In extraordinary and final calls: the same criteria will be followed as in ordinary calls.

vi. If a student fails any of the final tests, the grade of the call will be the lower one obtained in said tests.

vii. Students will have the possibility to opt for one of the two available routes (continuous or non-continuous evaluation). It may also change from continuous to non-continuous modality if he/she has NOT participated in evaluable activities that together represent at least 50% of the total evaluation of the subject.

viii. Plagiarism in any of the evaluable activities will be penalized.

ix. It will be responsibility of the student to check on the Virtual Campus the dates, hour and characteristics of the different evaluation tests, which will be uploaded by the professor along the first three weeks of the semester.

x. The professor will facilitate, as far as possible, students who can not regularly attend face-to-face training activities to carry them out, as long as the student has made contact with the professor sufficiently in advance.

Specifications for the resit/retake exam:

The same criteria as in the ordinary call will be followed

Specifications for the second resit / retake exam:

The same criteria as in the ordinary call will be followed
