According to art. 4 of the UCLM Student Evaluation Regulations, it must be provided to students who cannot regularly attend face-to-face training activities the passing of the subject, having the right (art. 12.2) to be globally graded, in 2 annual calls per subject , an ordinary and an extraordinary one (evaluating 100% of the competences).

Evaluation criteria for the final exam:

Continuous assessment:

- i. To pass the subject it will be necessary to obtain a minimum total mark of 5 out of 10 in the final mark; a minimum of 4 out of 10 is established in each of the final evaluation tests (listening, reading, use of English, writing and speaking), as well as for the didactics section and the rest of the evaluable progress activities in order to be considered for the overall evaluation. If the final mark is lower than 5, all sections which did not reach 5 out of 10 will require to be recovered.
- ii. The didactics section will be evaluated either through didactic exploitation activities within the classroom schedule, or through a section within the final exam.
- iii. Regarding the oral test, students who attend class will have the possibility of being evaluated continuously in the classroom. In the case of not passing the continuous evaluations, they will be required to perform the oral exam in the corresponding call for the final test. The teacher will detail, at the beginning of the year, the characteristics and requirements of this continuous evaluation.
- iv. Retrievable progress tests: The teacher will determine and inform students during the first three weeks of the academic year about the characteristics of the different progress tests that will be carried out. These tests will be related to the different skills in English and will represent 30% of the final grade. The marks of these progress tests are considered recoverable: any failing mark corresponding to a progress test can be retrieved by passing the corresponding final test of the same characteristics (e.g. listening, writing), whose mark will be valid for both the final test and failed progress tests.
- v. The marks passed with a minimum grade of 5 corresponding to each of the final tests (listening, writing, reading, use of English, speaking, and didactics) will be saved for the extraordinary or special call. In extraordinary and final calls: the same criteria will be followed as in ordinary calls.
- vi. If a student fails any of the final tests, the grade of the call will be the lower one obtained in said tests.
- vii. Students will have the possibility to opt for one of the two available routes (continuous or non-continuous evaluation). It may also change from continuous to non-continuous modality if he/she has NOT participated in evaluable activities that together represent at least 50% of the total evaluation of the subject.
- viii. Plagiarism in any of the evaluable activities will be penalized.
- ix. It will be responsibility of the student to check on the Virtual Campus the dates, hour and characteristics of the different evaluation tests, which will be uploaded by the professor along the first three weeks of the semester.

Non-continuous evaluation:

- * i. To pass the subject it will be necessary to obtain a minimum total mark of 5 out of 10 in the final mark; a minimum of 4 out of 10 is established in each of the final evaluation tests (listening, reading, use of English, writing and speaking), as well as for the didactics section and the rest of the evaluable progress activities in order to be considered for the overall evaluation. If the final mark is lower than 5, all sections which did not reach 5 out of 10 will require to be recovered.
- * ii. The didactics section will be evaluated either through didactic exploitation activities within the classroom schedule, or through a section within the final exam.
- * iii. Regarding the oral test, students who attend class will have the possibility of being evaluated continuously in the classroom. In the case of not passing the continuous evaluations, they will be required to perform the oral exam in the corresponding call for the final test. The teacher will detail, at the beginning of the year, the characteristics and requirements of this continuous evaluation.
